

KUNSTHANDEL MIEKE ZILVERBERG

ETRUSCAN TUFF STONE FUNERARY URN.

ETRUSCAN TUFF STONE FUNERARY URN.
2nd century BC

ETRUSCAN TUFF STONE FUNERARY URN. Lid decorated with the deceased lady, diadem and veil on her head, resting with one arm on a cushion and holding leaf shaped fan in her right hand, pomegranate in left hand Obverse of urn carved in high relief with a Greek mythological scene of Hippodameia with the wheel and king Pelops killing charioteer Myrtilos on altar of temple.

70 x 60 x 18 cm. Ex coll. J. van Rijn, Maastricht, Netherlands; formerly coll. F. Philips, Eindhoven, Netherlands.

From Volterra, 2nd cent BC

cf. F.I. Bastet, H. Brunsting, Corpus Signorum Classicorum, Leiden, 1982, p. 154, no. 272;

L.B. van der Meer, Etruscan Urns from Volterra, Studies on Mythological

Representations I-IL, Meppel, 1978, pp. 56, 94-

96 and 108, plates XIX, XXVIII.2 P.O.R.