

PAN

AMSTERDAM

ROOT GALLERY

Crown of the Sea

Polished bronze, Patina bronze, Light fitting
H85 L25 W25 CM
Edition of 4

Crown of the Sea, this sculpture tells the future story from the romantic perspective. In this story there is a creature with a form that is inspired by a combination of corals, fish and jellyfish. It will tell the story of gardening coral, this is a method to create healthy eco-systems. This will benefit the organisms of the underwater world with a better quality of life and in the long run, a better future.

The "Crown of the Sea" is made up of three distinct elements, each with its own meaning. The bottom section represents eggs, symbolizing the creation and continuation of new life. The middle section is designed as camouflage, essential for the creature's survival in the mysterious depths of the sea. At the top is the crown, the jewel of the sculpture, representing how the creature nourishes and gives back to the ocean ecosystem.

Crown of the sea is part of Faces of the Sea. Faces of the Sea is a work about the future of the underwater world. Where the different faces represent different storylines of the future scenarios. This can be a romantic story or a dark story. The story of these "faces" will be showed in different elements.