

PAN

AMSTERDAM

LIMBURG ANTIQUAIRS

A pair of large Directoire candelabras.

A beautifully sculpted, darkly patinated female figure in a tunic blows on two ormolu trumpets, each ending in a candle holder. On the head also a candle holder, elaborated as an oil lamp. The figures stand on a darkly patinated triangular base. On the front, an ormolu mount of a vase with flowers and branches.

France, Directoire, 1789-1804

Height 62 cm