

PAN

AMSTERDAM

DEPTH OF FIELD (DOF)

Woman at work: H.M. Queen. Princess Elizabeth

PAUL POPPER (1933-1969, Popperfoto agency)

Princess Elizabeth training as an ATS officer, learning how to change a truck wheel. Princess Elizabeth enrolled for National Services at the age of 18, and was commissioned as a second Subaltern in the A.T.S. in 1944, being trained as a mechanic and driver. Her experience in the A.T.S. not only symbolized solidarity with the nation but also marked the beginning of a lifelong sense of duty and resilience that would define her reign.

Silver Gelatin, c.1944, London 2250,00

The life of H.M. Queen. Princess Elizabeth enrolled for National Services at the age of 18, and was commissioned as a second Subaltern in the A.T.S. in 1944, being trained as a mechanic and driver. Her experience in the A.T.S. not only symbolized solidarity with the nation but also marked the beginning of a lifelong sense of duty and resilience that would define her reign.