JACOB J. ROOSJEN SRI

Dutch Parcel-gilt silver patron sign of the guild of St. George of Cromfoirt, Peter Vallickners, Den Bosch (Bois-le Duc), 1549/1550

The sixteenth-century circular patron sign of the marksmen's guild of Cromvoirt is engraved on the outer rim with the text '+ DV SCVT VAN CROMFORT' in Gothic capitals. In the middle, surrounded by a cable rim, the silver-gilt figure of St. George on horseback, slaying the dragon, is applied. Twigs are engraved between the words. Four circular suspension eyes are mounted at the top and a suspension hook below. Fully marked at the reverse and displaying an assay stripe.

49 grams; 7,1 cm diameter, 9,1 cm high (including rings)
