JACOB J. ROOSJEN SRI

A pair of Dutch silver candlesticks, Willem van Laer, Zwolle, 1712

The candlesticks stand on octagonal bases with profiled edges and have a lowered central part, from which the faceted, baluster-shaped stem with two nodi rises. The spool-shaped candle holder is also profiled. The Van Welevelt family coat-of-arms is engraved on the base of both candlesticks. Fully marked on the reverse of the bases.
666 grams; 18.2 cm high
